THE NATION'S AFFAIRS

Corporal Tanner Replies to Newspaper Criticism.

THE NEW MINISTER TO GERMANY

Provision for Sick and Disabled Seamen—Postmaster's Salaries—A Change in the Navy Department—Coast Defense

WASHINGTON June 27—Corporal Tanner commissioner of pensions, replying to the attacks made upon his administration of the pension office, says

"I do not think my dismissal from office will occur for some time yet I had some business with the president recently, and after all that has appeared in the newspapers he never once alluded to the subject of my dismissal I mentioned in the course of the conversation the desperate and continuous assaults that are being made upon me 'Tanner' he replied 'never mind them but go on and do your business'

If in any manner I have been imposed upon if any shadow of wrong has been or may be perpetrated under me while I am commissioner no one will jump on it sooner than I will I have been informed on what I consider good democratic authority that at the last meeting of the democratic national committee there was a general expression of opinion that my administration of the bureau was making it too popular among the soldiers and the determination was expressed to see their friends of the press and have them jump on Tanner and the pension office with both feet

Last Thursday there was an assemblage of democratic congressmen, and they employed two men who from that time on were to be occupied in hunting every point relative to the pension office which might be distorted into something reflecting on the republican party or the commissioner.

I hope they will have an investigation at the next session of congress and that the investigation will cover not only my term but go back over the past four years Then there will be music by the full band

Furthermore I have to say that I believe it is pretty thoroughly recognized that this office and myself have been selected as the targets of the opposition It is the season now for democratic abuse and villification of the pension office but by and by the great American people with their strong common sense will begin to ask if this fellow Tanner is such a thief and robber as he is being painted.

REFORM IN THE NAVY DEPARTMENT

Secretary Tracy Issues Orders for Its Reorganization

WASHINGTON June 27—By a sweeping general order issued to day Secretary Tracy directed an entire reorganization of the business methods of the navy department

Up to this time, the new equipments and the new duties constantly arising from the condition of change incident to the replacement of the old wooden vessel with new ships and modern guns have been assigned here and there to the several bureaus of the department often with no better reason than the convenience of the moment The result has been confusion and an exaggeration of the defects of the bureau system The duties which have no connection have been placed together and those naturally associated have been divorced

Secretary Whitney recognized the evils of the system and made an effort to change them but was obliged from the magnitude of the task and the paramount importance of concentrating his energies upon the procurement of new ships and guns to abandon the task

Secretary Tracy however says the time is not ripe for a further change and has accordingly issued new orders

It enlarges the duties of some of the bureaus notably those of the bureau of equipment, to which is attributed nearly all the duties of supply, heretofore belonging to the bureau of navigation, and the control of the hydrographic and compass offices and naval observatory To the constructing, manufacturing and purchasing bureaus are assigned other duties grouping them systematically and appropriately Each bureau exercises control of its shops at labor superintendence requisitions accounts and appropriations The limits of authority are well defined The bureau of navigation loses its duties of supply and control over several important offices and becomes under the immediate direction of the secretary and the executive session for military matters and is charged with the training discipline and control of the personnel of the fleet. Finally the chiefs of the bureaus of yards and docks equipment ordnance construction and repair and steam engineering ex officio constitute the board for design construction and equipment of new ships

Practically, one effect of the order will be to make the bureau of navigation correspond to the adjutant general's office in the war department in the control of the entire personnel of the organization The terms of the order are as follows The duties of the bureau of navigation shall comprise all that relates to the promulgation and enforcement of the secretary's orders to the fleet and to the officers of the navy to the education of the officers and men including the naval academy and technical schools for officers except the torpedo school apprentice establishment and schools for technical education of enlisted men; the enlistment and discharge of all enlisted persons including appointed petty officers for general and special service and the preparation of estimates for the pay of all the officers and enlisted men It shall have under its sole control all rendezvous and receiving ships and it shall provide transportation for all enlisted persons and appointed petty officers It shall establish the complement of the crews of all vessels in commission It shall keep records of service of all squadrons ships officers and men and prepare the annual naval register for publication, it shall have under its direction the office of naval intelligence and naval attaches abroad the department library libraries for ships and the war records office It shall be charged with the enforcement of laws and authorized regulations [illegible] and manuals of service and the keeping of the same correct to date All questions with regard to discipline changes of regulations tactics and manuals shall be submitted to this bureau for action and recommendation It shall prescribe the dress of all officers and men and see that the regulations in this respect are strictly enforced It shall receive and bring to the attention of the secretary of the navy all applications from officers for service or change of service It shall receive all reports of service performed by vessels officers or men of all inspections of the same not of a special nature and of all drills and exercises In order to prevent the issuing of conflicting instructions all official communications to vessels in commission shall first be submitted to the secretary of the navy and forwarded through this bureau

To the bureau of yards and docks is assigned all that relates to the construction and maintenance of docks slips and buildings within the navy yards the naval home and generally about the same duties as it now discharges

The bureau of equipment and recruiting loses the apprentices' system and the enlistment of men but gains the naval observatory nautical almanac hydrographic and compass offices and the electric light system

In the case of the remaining bureaus, it is noticeable that all of them are to have exclusive jurisdiction over buildings and plants assigned to their use in the navy yards after they have been constructed by the bureau of yards and docks All of the bureaus are also empowered to purchase such stores tools plant and material as they may need

CHICAGO, June 27—The grand jury took a new tack this morning in the Cronin case in the consideration of Alexander Sullivan's speculations Schwartz and Dupet were subpenaed to bring in the books It is believed that light will be thrown upon some features of Sullivan's speculations which have hitherto escaped scrutiny

The actions of the police indicate that new arrests will be made soon Some one is reported to have squealed

Detective Palmer says that John F Beggs was arrested to prevent his holding communication with the outside world It is claimed that he has been visited by members of the alleged trial committee and it was thought that he had put a flea into the ear of more than one of the committee

Nothing of interest was developed at the afternoon session No indictments were returned

COLLAPSE OF THE COLUMBIA CREW

They Were "Brokenhearted" Over Their Defeat—Races on Various Tracks—Baseball—Sullivan and Kilrain

NEW LONDON June 26—The features of to-day's boat race were an exciting contest between Cornell and Columbia and the sensational collapse of the Columbia crew

The instant they crossed the finish line and when they had stopped rowing six of them Bradley Meiklehen O'Brien, O'Gorman Clapp and Foote, fell over in a dead faint completely exhausted Five of the six broken down men recovered consciousness within a few minutes but Meiklehen was unconscious for fully five minutes The six men were placed on board a steamer Two other men in the Columbia boat Tuttle and Pelton stroke also fainted and had to be assisted out of their boat

When the Columbia launch arrived at their quarters the entire Columbia crew were lifted out and carried to their rooms and put to bed The men were in a pretty bad shape They had completely broken down

Tuttle was quite excited and at times slightly delirious Meiklehen and four others were slightly hysterical and showed plainly the effects of the severe strain under which they had been and of the high tension of their nervous systems when they found themselves defeated.

Jasper Goodwin the famous Columbia oarsman admitted that the men were badly used up and were still under the weather, but that there was nothing serious the matter with them

From other sources it was learned that shortly after the race a boat was sent to Gale's Ferry and a physician summoned. This doctor is now with the men and it is understood that he will remain at the Columbia quarters all night as a cautionary measure

Many alarming rumors are current about the condition of two of Columbia's men but the Columbia men assert that they will be all right in the morning, that they pulled an unusually hard race were out rowed and exhausted and gave up broken hearted over their defeat

The Cornell men who pulled a wonderfully plucky race are around town to-night feeling as bright and sound as a dollar,

The following is the official time of the freshman race Harvard 12 31 Columbia, 12 28.

In the triangular race Cornell won Columbia second Pennsylvania third No time was taken

A Falling Wall at Seattle Kills a Laborer.

THE WICKERSHAM CASE AGAIN

Steady Rain Throughout The Inland Empire Proves of Great Benefit to Crops—Another Boy Murderer.

SEATTLE, June 27.—One man was killed and another dangerously injured at half past 11 this morning by the falling of the division wall of the San Francisco store and Union block. A number of men were working beneath and the first warning they had was the cry of a workman that the wall was falling. A sudden gust of wind had arisen and striking the wall broadside, had caused it to waver.

Charles Schmidt was the only one of the laborers who failed to take warning in time. He was sitting down cleaning brick, and the great mass of brick came swinging over him before he could get out. He was crushed beneath the tons of weight.

John Brewster was working with a gang at the front of a block. At the time he was on a derrick removing ironwork from the building. He was thrown violently to the ground and very badly injured there being several wounds about his head and body.

It was unknown till the roll of workmen was called that Schmidt was beneath the ruins. Then the workmen began hurriedly removing the great mass of debris, and in about two hours reached Schmidt's body, mangled and torn almost beyond recognition. The legs and arms were broken, the right shoulder badly crushed and the face mashed to a jelly.

Schmidt was a laborer 25 years of age and unmarried. He had been in Seattle several years. It is thought to-night Brewster will recover.

The noise of the falling wall was tremendous and attracted a great concourse of people. Much excitement was manifested and reports that a dozen people were buried beneath the brick were current.

A coroner's jury is holding an inquest over Schmidt's remains and an effort is being made to ascertain if the accident was due to any one's negligence. The wall though three stories high had been pronounced sound by builders and architects.

THE WICKERSHAM CASE

He Gets a Change of Venue From Seattle to Tacoma.

SEATTLE, June 27.—James Wickersham, the seducer of Sadie Brauther this afternoon secured in court what he has been trying to obtain ever since the beginning of the case, a change of venue to Tacoma. The motion was argued before Judge Hanford and the claim was set up that the judge was not competent to sit in the case inasmuch as he had been a consulting attorney for B. F. Radebaugh, of the Tacoma Ledger, in the libel suit which Wickersham instituted against him. This case was intimately connected with and bearing upon the cause now at issue and for that reason Judge Hanford was asked to allow the transfer of the case to Tacoma.

The case of May and Sadie Smith and Alexander McGuire indicted for perjury in the trial of the Wickersham case, was continued until the next term of court.

RAIN IN THE INLAND EMPIRE.

Too Late in Some Places but Assuring Splendid Crops Elsewhere.

WALLA WALLA, June 27.—During the past twenty four hours a soaking rain has fallen here. It is believed to be general throughout the Inland Empire thus securing splendid crops beyond peradventure. There has never been a crop failure in this valley.

TOO LATE AT PENDLETON.

PENDLETON, June 27.—Heavy rains have fallen in this region last night and to-day. It has been too late to be of any benefit here but the mountain valleys and the Grand Ronde will produce immensely as a result.

Alger and Platt Will Look Into the Behring Sea Fisheries.

EFFECT OF THE EXCLUSION ACT

Unsuccessful Opium Smuggler—Los Angeles County Bonds Irregular—Jeff Davis's Body Servant Dead—Notes.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—The Examiner's New York special says: Alger and Platt are believed to have their eyes on the contract covering the seal fisheries in Behring sea which has been enjoyed by the Alaska Commercial Company for the past twenty years.

The contract between the government and the Alaska Commercial Company will expire in May 1890. This is the last year that the commercial company will have the exclusive right to take seals in Behring sea unless the contract is renewed. It will take a new company several months to get into shape to continue the work of taking seals so an early decision on the part of the government in the matter is anticipated.

Under the existing laws the letting of the contract is left entirely to the discretion of Secretary of the Treasury Windom. He will probably make known his decision before January 1.

Platt and Alger are going to Alaska because of a wish to investigate the extent of the seal industry before engaging in it.

It is known that the Alaska Commercial Company is making strenuous efforts to obtain the renewal of their contract. The plum is such a rich one that there are already a dozen or more applicants in the field.

Whether Windom will advertise for proposals or not is not known.

THE SCOTT EXCLUSION LAW.

Chinamen Leaving the Country in Great Numbers and but Few Returning.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—Chinese Consul Bee is absent from the city, but one of the attaches of the consulate declares that since the Scott act became a law about 6000 Chinese have left the city, and less than 300 have arrived.

The difficulty which confronts the Chinese merchant, when determined to return to America, is the fact that his return certificate must be signed by well known residents of the city from which he took his departure for China, and that it must also be adorned with his photograph.

"In ten years," said the consul's representative, "if the present rate of departure is maintained, there will not be ten thousand Chinamen left in the United States. They go in droves like sheep. There were 256 of them who went home on the last steamer, of whom but thirteen had return certificates. Chinatown is doomed to pass slowly out of existence."

ADVICES FROM HAYTI.

Only a Question of Time When Hippolyte's Forces Capture Port-au-Prince.

NEW YORK, June 27.—The first authentic news from Hayti in two months came yesterday.

The steamer Prince Wilhelm which left Port-au-Prince June 20, arrived yesterday and brought twenty five merchants, who say that it is only a question of time when Hippolyte's army will drive Legitime and his friends from Port au Prince.

The reason they left Port au Prince was because affairs in Hayti had reached such a point that business was out of the question. Everything is stagnant and the town is overrun with ruffians. There is almost no money at all, and those who can in any way get hold of a little are leaving the country. Provisions are high, and flour is selling at $20 a barrel and the poorer classes are suffering for the necessities of life, and consequently are on the verge of an insurrection.

In the hills behind Port au Prince the armies of Hippolyte lie encamped around the city, which is in a measure in a state of siege.

Among the passengers on the steamship Wilhelm was O. B. Nilson, a resident of this city who four months ago went to Hayti to enter the employ of Legitime as engineer of a man-of-war. He said that he returned because he found the situation there too warm for him. Legitime stood little chance against Hippolyte whose army was well equipped and numbered 10,000 stronger.

When the speaker left Hippolyte's troops were within four miles of Port-au-Prince by land and fourteen miles by sea. He said that the reason for Hippolyte's not rushing on Port-au-Prince immediately was because he was awaiting the signal from friends in the city.

Legitime's former commander in chief General Piquant, evacuated Grand Saline for the consideration of $250,000 and succeeded in leaving the island with the money. Three ministers of war held sway for as many months, and one of these, General Anselm Prophet, appropriated $350,000 of government money and resigned.

As to the Clyde steamer Ozama being captured by Haytian gunboats the truth of the matter was said Nilson, that the vessel was only held for a little over three hours and was released when Captain Kellogg, of the United States steamer Ossipee, made the demand upon Legitime. At first the demand was refused except under the conditions that the Ozama would not go to Gonaives. Captain Kellogg wrote upon the back of Legitime's note that if the vessel was not released in five hours and $5000 paid over by Legitime he would bombard the city.

The demand was immediately complied with, and the $5000 paid to Captain Kellogg.

THE ALTON'S CHARGES UNFOUNDED.

Very Few of the Rock Island Tickets Found in the Possession of the Denver Scalpers.

DENVER, Colo., June 27.—George L. Rhodes, assistant general passenger agent of the Rock Island, was in the city to-day investigating the charges made by the Alton that the Rock Island had in the office of the Denver scalpers 400 Chicago tickets.

Mr. Rhodes made a personal visit to the scalpers and found that their stock of tickets on all lines was very low, only a few being held. He followed up his investigation by offering a premium of 700 per cent for all tickets over the Rock Island, and found in the hands of scalpers only six.

He further asserts that he believes the statement of the Alton is only a bluff, and that no cut will be made.

The scalpers here deny that there are any Rock Island tickets in the market, and say that the stock that they were enabled to lay in months ago has been exhausted.

It is learned that the Alton's contemplated move was known here a week ago, but was held back for effect.

A DAY OF CASUALTIES.

Three Fatal Accidents in Kansas City Yesterday.

Winter died this evening and Albach is in a precarious condition.

ASTORIA'S RAILROAD.

Assurance Given That it is a Fixed Fact.

From Astoria to Connect With the Southern Pacific—This is the Assured and Definite Programme.

Astorian of Thursday.

The board of directors of the Astoria & South Coast Railroad Company and the representatives of the Pacific Construction Company had a meeting in the office of the company at 9 o'clock yesterday morning which lasted till 11.

Considerable important business was transacted.

The resignation of Mr. John A. Devlin as president of the Astoria & South Coast road which had been laid over from a previous meeting was on motion accepted. The resignation of M. C. Crosby as director was also accepted. Action upon the resignation of D. Morgan as director was deferred.

William Reid and E. P. Thompson were then elected directors.

William Reid was then elected president of the road.

The gentlemen who resigned did so with the design to admit two or three directors who will act jointly with the local directors. When the entire arrangement is made there will be five directors from Astoria and four from elsewhere leaving the control of affairs in the hands of residents of this city. This will probably be brought about at the next election in October.

The whole matter now stands this way and to make it clear it will be necessary to repeat some of what has previously been published in the Astorian as the developments transpired from day to day.

The Astoria & South Coast Railway Company builds the road. The road is to be extended about a mile farther than originally contemplated. It runs clear through what is known as "the Gearhart woods" and extends to the Ocean house or Mrs. Byrd's place. The $175,000 paid or pledged by Astorians is to be paid in. The Pacific Construction Company pays in $200,000 additional, and takes that amount of stock in the Astoria & South Coast Railway Company. That $200,000 in stock is to be placed in the hands of D. K. Warren as trustee. Work is to be pushed with all possible diligence and the road is to be completed as rapidly as possible. The road is to be run from the proposed present terminus in the most direct route to the Nehalem and is to connect with the Oregon & California standard gauge railway or the Portland and Willamette Valley railway in Washington or Yamhill or in Washington and Yamhill counties. The road (which is the Astoria and South Coast railroad right through) is to be completed to such connection by September 15, 1891. This is guaranteed by the Pacific Construction Company, an organization with one hundred million dollars. The road will be about 100 miles in length. The Astoria & South Coast road is to issue to the Pacific Construction $20,000 in stock and $10,000 in bonds per mile as fast as the road is completed and accepted. The Pacific Construction Company is to furnish the Astoria & South Coast Railway Company all the money necessary to build, equip and place in operation the entire road.

The above is definite and accurate and is the whole business in a nutshell.

The iron was ordered yesterday, also six cars, three construction and three passenger, to be built in this city under competent superintendence. The intent is to have cars running to the seashore by the 10th of August. Work on the bridge begins at once, the one company will begin from the middle of the channel in Young's bay and build eastward, the other begins in the same place and builds westward. Contracts were let yesterday for the bridges required from Skipanon westward.

And having written thus far and outlined the scheme, the writer feels as though he would like to personally congratulate and shake hands with every man woman and child in the country over the successful starting of this great scheme which gives us not only a road to the seashore but a broad gauge outlet to everywhere in the Union that a locomotive turns a wheel. It has taken lots of talk, lots of writing, a vast amount of effort, and that for which so many have worked toward for years is now an assured fact. It is so easy to write this now but it means so much.

It means that our isolation ceases that deep sea ships will line our wharves, that our coal and lumber will be worked up into a great trade, that we will handle the outgoing and incoming commerce of the Northwest, that stately warehouses and solid structures will rise on every hand, that Astoria will awake from its sleep and assume the dignity that God and nature designed she should, that our wonderful resources shall be developed, that factories and workshops and mills shall rise on every outlying slope; that in five years Astoria will have 50,000 people—an underestimate.

It means all this and much more, and the Astorian takes most cordial pleasure in sincerely congratulating the entire community on the result of all this railroad talk and effort.

"Tall oaks from little acorns grow," and Astoria's modest efforts to have a railroad to the Seaside now results in assurance of transcontinental connection.

"It is almost too good to be true," said a prominent resident yesterday in talking over the matter. But this here written in this column is the exact and sober truth. Nothing is too good for Astoria.

The road, broad gauge and standard, first class in all its appointments, and thoroughly equipped, will be built in time for the Oregon delegation to the Fifty third congress to take through cars at the Astoria depot to the national capital at Washington, D. C.

Astoria Transcript, Wednesday.

Some good and substantial work was done by the directors of the Astoria & South Coast railroad at their meetings within the past forty-eight hours. A long session was held at the company's office this morning, when the new administration was consummated and plans were perfected for carrying on the work without interruption or hindrance.

Mr. Reid was elected president of the board of directors. Iron was ordered to be procured at once for the line as heretofore contemplated, an engine has been bought, three passenger coaches and three freight cars are under contract to be built at this city, and the work of construction, including the bridge across Young's bay, will be pushed forward with all possible speed. The aim now is to have the work completed by the 7th or 8th of August.

In all the dusty cloud of rumor that has been blown upon the winds of exaggeration this brief, plain statement can be relied upon as the facts in the case.

Nothing in the bounds of reason now stands between this community and the one grand consummation for which Astoria has been battling and longing during all the long years of her existence.

The railroad is coming! Of course it is! Barring supernatural elements or treachery unthought of, no possible obstacle can cheat us of the glorious accomplishment.

We hail the Astoria & South Coast railroad as virtually an accomplished enterprise. We expect to see it extended through to the outside world just as quickly as labor and means can get it there; and when it has linked us with the bands of steel and pulse of enterprise to the great marts and markets of the nation we shall see such a tidal wave of progress and enterprise overspreading the Lower Columbia region as has never been witnessed on the north Pacific shores. It will be great because of its greatness and grandeur than any because of its permanence and freedom from the common feature of "boomy" inflation.

It is well. Fortune smiles at last upon the downcast and a reward of merit crowns the brow of patient effort and persistent industry.

THE GLORIOUS RAIN IS FALLING

Jupiter Pluvius Has Been Niggardly With Us, But Not With the Inland Empire.

The rain that Portland has been having the past few days has extended all over the eastern country. Jupiter Pluvius has not been so niggardly with those people as with us, and has given them a little more of the beneficial rain.

Assistant General Freight Agent Fulton of the Northern Pacific received a dispatch yesterday from J. M. Scott of Sprague superintendent of the Idaho division stating that rain had fallen all along the division, also in the Palouse country. When he telegraphed at 10 A. M. it was still raining hard.

The weather report received by the O. R. & N. Co. at 8:30 yesterday morning showed that it was cloudy and calm all along the line, except at Colfax, where it was raining. During the night steady rains fell at Arlington, Walla Walla and Riparia. Light rains were had at nearly every point.

[TRANSLATION]

The reputation of the HALLET & DAVIS PIANOS was established everywhere by the extraordinary sensation they created at the Paris Exhibition of 1867 Since that time several of the leading piano manufacturers in Europe have found it expedient to construct pianos of the American kind The distinguishing advantages of the latter—peculiar richness of tone and extreme solidity of construction—were evident to eye and ear in the most admirable instrument manufactured by HALLET & DAVIS, of Boston, which was tested here yesterday It is highly desirable that the use and enjoyment of these instruments should be attainable for European pianists

With distinguished regards, I am yours truly, F LISZT

Musical authorities and Critics prefer the Hallet & Davis Pianos, and they are purchased by those possessing refined musical taste, and appreciating the richness of tone and the highest perfection generally in a piano

NO EXPLANATION NEEDED.

MESSRS. HALLET DAVIS & CO —Dear Sirs Allow me to express my gratitude and pleasure at finding a magnificent Hallet & Davis Grand Piano awaiting our use in the Plattsburgh concert For evenness of scale, warmth and richness of tone color, and for its remarkable and peculiar sympathetic singing quality, this piano stands without a peer in the world

Yours truly, OVIDE MUSIN

MT. ANGEL COMMENCEMENT.

The Closing Exercises There of the College and Academy.

A Pleasant Excursion From Portland—Very Interesting Programmes Rendered at Both Institutions—Prosperous Schools

It was a happy crowd that left the East Portland depot yesterday morning on the excursion to Mount Angel to witness the commencement exercises at the Mount Angel academy and college

The excursionists left on the 8 o'clock train on the Oregon & California railway going as far as Woodburn Here tickets were bought for the Oregonian narrow gauge road, and the train which was already there in waiting, was boarded at once Not finding enough room in the regular passenger coaches, a large number found accommodations on three flatcars on which rude benches had been improvised expressly for excursion purposes While these cars were not as elegant as a Pullman coach, they were commodious, well ventilated and possessed the additional advantage of enabling the excursionists to obtain an unobstructed view of the beautiful scenery to be met with in the run to Mount Angel

By common desire and general consent jovial C A. Malarkey was voted chaperone of the party. By his exhaustless fund of wit and wellfoot humor, he kept his charges in the best of spirits, until the end of the journey was reached

Arriving at Mount Angel station the excursionists were greeted with music by the college band which had been stationed on the depot platform to receive them The cars were soon vacated, and the people were ushered into the assembly hall of the young ladies' academy, where the first exercises of the day were to be held The delegations from Salem, St Paul and Silverton had already arrived, and as soon as the kind sisters and benedictine fathers had procured seats for the excursionists from Portland an overture (Siege de Corinth by Rossini) played on pianos by the Misses Lizzie Draper and Annie Krebs announced the opening of the commencement exercises

AT THE ACADEMY

The rooms were elegantly decorated with holly and evergreen Huge branches of fragrant snowballs were suspended like hanging-baskets from the ceiling and several large evergreens were stationed at either side of the platform

When a tap of the bell announced the second number on the programme a curtain arose, revealing about fifty girls and young ladies, dressed in white standing on raised seats in the little alcove formed by a small room separated from the main auditorium by lace curtains This alcove being draped with sprigs of green and red roses and a soft, hazy light streaming through the delicately shaded curtains presented the appearance of a fairy bower The pupils in the chorus, "Welcome to Our Hall!"

THE ... [illegible]

Owing to the temporary illness of Miss Annie Krebs the salutatorian the salutatory was read by Miss Lizzie Draper Miss Krebs had a severe cold that seriously interfered with her articulation

"Fairy Fingers," a piano duet was played by the Misses I Malarkey C Merrill M Armstrong B Price

The infantile class attired in white and each wearing a large Normandy cap recited "In Baby Land," a series of nursery rhymes in a very happy manner

"Birdie Listen" was sung with considerable vivacity by the junior class after which Miss Lizzie Draper, with violin, and Miss Josie Krebs, on the piano played the duet entitled "Blushing Morn" Both young ladies are excellent musicians and this duet was one of the musical gems of the occasion

"Little Nell's surprise party" an operetta requiring considerable dramatic conception was participated in by O Downing N Dunn W Mount, P Goulet S Draper I Malarkey G Cleaver, E Settlemyer, C Pool and B Price.

Misses H Dunn A Hartman I Raleigh and M Armstrong followed with an instrumental duet Le Petit Carnaval

The second part of the programme opened with a vocal selection What is the song the swallows sing by Misses Annie and Josie Krebs, soprano, and Miss J Cline, alto Miss Lizzie Draper acted as accompanist

Miss M Donnerberg recited the selection "Somebody's Mother" with a great deal of feeling and good elocutionary effect

Following this came a vocal solo and chorus, "The Voice of the Great Creator" with violin and piano accompaniment and a recitation, entitled "Some Time" by Misses G Cleaver, E Settlemyer and L Draper

The selection Warbling at Eve was played with excellent artistic effect by Misses A and J Krebs, M Donnerberg and L Raleigh and then the fairy tale "Little Tiptoe," was enacted in two scenes by Misses L Raleigh C Merrill M Grones I Thompson, M Colebrook M Armstrong I Malarkey L Draper, N Dunn M Cain G Cain, S Settlemyer and O Downing

The young ladies were attired in thin muslin dresses and otherwise togged out in keeping with the characters they represented

This enchanting little fairy drama was presented in a manner to elicit the hearty applause of the entire audience

Miss Josie Krebs delivered the valedictory and was followed by a farewell song by the school

Rev Father Adelphelm director of the college then introduced Rev Father Orth of Portland who in an able and scholarly address, advocated the necessity of instilling truth into the youthful mind as a firm foundation for a broader education Religious education and the development of man's soul, he maintained, was the great need of the hour much more so than mere book learning or the education of the mind alone

His Excellency Governor Pennoyer was also called upon to make a few remarks but owing to the late hour modestly excused himself and merely took occasion to compliment the pupils for their very interesting and creditable entertainment

The entertainment was in reality much better than was expected of young ladies of their age, and not only reflects credit upon them for their perseverance and application but upon their instructors the kind sisters, as well. The musical education afforded, both instrumental and vocal, is especially worthy of mention as the meritorious performances of the Misses Krebs Miss Draper and several other musical geniuses well testifies.

DINNER FOR ALL

At the conclusion of the academy exercises the large assemblage repaired to the dining room above, where two long tables loaded with good wholesome food were eagerly beleaguered by the hungry excursionists. There was enough for all and to spare. Dinner over, the march was taken to Mount Angel College about three quarters of a mile distant It is reached by a shady walk Here the young men under the instruction of the Benedictine fathers gave their entertainment in the large hall of the main college building

COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT

The programme rendered by the young men was excellent in every feature, but lack of space forbids any extended mention being made of the individual performances. All acquitted themselves with great credit and showed that they had spared no time or pains to prepare themselves for the occasion

ADDRESS BY E B McELROY

State superintendent of public instruction, E B McElroy being called upon for a few remarks said It affords me great pleasure to make a visit to Mount Angel college and academy especially upon this occasion I hope to visit you (scholars) some time in the future to better observe your course of education and to talk with you but at present I can only say to parents that your children are under good management

Mr McElroy spoke very highly of the department of music which has attained such a high degree of efficiency and applauded the Benedictine fathers for the excellent site chosen by them for the college affording he claimed unsurpassed advantages to the naturalist meteorologist and other students of the natural sciences

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR

Governor Sylvester Pennoyer made a forcible and eloquent address to the young students who have cast their lot with the college When I received an invitation from the Rev Father Prior to address this school said the governor I responded with a declinement ... the regent of the Agricultural college at Corvallis and my duty was to be present at the commencement exercises there yesterday I did not think that I could get here in time to address you to-day and have made no preparation for an address In the first place I desire to thank the reverend fathers and students of this college for the excellent entertainment given If asked to give advice to you young students, I will say what Polonious lord chamberlain to the king of Denmark once said to his son In the first place I charge you to be careful in reading human character guard well your language and actions grapple with books of established reputation and be careful in reading new ones, be slow to quarrel but when you do bear it out bravely, dress neat neither borrow nor lend It is the last injunction that I wish to emphasize in particular—be true to thine own self and it must follow as the night the day that thou canst not be false to any man There is implanted in the breast of every man what we call a conscience—a spark of divinity itself and as long as we follow its precepts and obey its behests then we can not be untrue to any man This quality of character is exemplified in the character of Thomas Moore in the drama we have just witnessed he was true to his conscience, therefore he could not be untrue to himself or his king Young man be true to yourselves! Inscribe this injunction on the outer walls of your memory incorporate it into every fiber of your being carry it out in all your actions and you will win the applause of your God and your fellowmen

PREMIUMS AWARDED

Premiums were awarded to students for application good order English grammar penmanship history French German music spelling composition arithmetic shorthand reading geography neatness elocution Christian doctrine and to the postmaster of the college

In closing the exercises in the college hall, Father Barnabas thanked the many visitors for their presence and the promoters of the excursion for their success The people then returned to the depot well pleased with the excellent entertainment, and thankful to the reverend fathers and sisters for their royal hospitality The excursion returned to Portland at about 10 15 o'clock

Among the visiting priests at the commencement exercises were Rev Father Vertag of East Portland, Vanlin of Albina Kurtors of Ellensburg, Orth of Portland O Dea of Portland, Northman of Portland Rauw of Portland Hildebrand of Oregon City Boseaux of Gervais, Boullard, of La Grande Summers of Portland, and Michaels of St Michael's All told there were about 500 visitors at the college

KARL GARDNEE

This brilliant German comedian, whose reputation as a delineator of Teutonic is national will visit Portland for the first time beginning a week's engagement next Monday night The Philadelphia Call speaks in the following terms of this clever actor

Fatherland received its first Philadelphia production at the Arch street theater last night The plot of this play is interesting especially since it affords ample opportunity for Charles A Gardner as Herman Leopold to sing catchy songs dance with his accustomed grace and say many amusing things That his efforts were successful was fully attested by the frequent applause which was given and the number of times he was called in front of the curtain The cast is generally strong

OTHER NEWS MATTERS

FIRE MEETING

The fire boys had a rousing meeting Wednesday evening The old wheezy, bronchial fire bell with spasmodic jerks gasped out the meeting hour and the boys one by one hurried up to the hall to see what the matter was There was a large attendance and President Hughes with dignity called the meeting to order By this time the fire bell had got warmed up until it ... As the ... to the building ... it was then ... to suspend business until the bell got tired out which it finally did

A great amount of business was transacted but of no great importance. An invitation from the committee at Vancouver inviting the fire company to participate in the Fourth of July celebration in that city was read After some debate it was considered best to decline the kind invitation with thanks as it was thought hardly desirable to leave Albina unprotected in case of fire After a good deal of speech making and resolutions the meeting adjourned

TRAMPS

A great many tramps have infested Albina during the last few weeks Hearty strong looking young men go from door to door begging for something to eat One of these tramps had been during one evening to several houses and in nearly every one had received his hands full of eatables As he could not eat all, and he kept on begging it is presumable that he had pals to whom he gave the rest of the food There seems very little call for any one to go begging as there is plenty of employment for all who want to work, and housekeepers had better be careful to notice if anything is missing after their departure

BURGLARIZED

The residence of Mr J M Pittinger was burglarized last Wednesday night and money and clothing to the amount of $80 taken away The entrance had been effected through the kitchen door which is of glass A pane had been removed and the hand inserted and the door unlocked from the inside It is no doubt but that it was one of those suspicious looking tramps who have been inspecting the back entrances of numerous residences on a plea of something to eat

NEED WATCHING

As the weather has been so very dry and everything is as easily ignited as kindling wood, it might be advisable now that the Fourth is so near at hand that little precaution is taken in the indiscriminate use of fire crackers The average boy will shoot crackers wherever he is and it will be necessary for the older ones to keep an eye on him for a short time and thus possibly avert some unwished for catastrophe

LOST A HORSE

A teamster named Heinrich lost a valuable horse last Tuesday while grading He was using the team and scraper in filling up one of the gulches on Alternathy avenue when in some manner the horse slipped and fell against the scraper cutting the main leader of one of the hind legs As nothing could be done for the animal he was shot and buried in the gulch

OFF FOR THE SEASIDE

A great many citizens are preparing to leave for the seaside or country to recruit

Do you know said a doctor that if it was not for this filthy, slimy stagnant water in this slough almost in the midst of Albina that there would be very little sickness in the city? What a shame to expose families and children to this malaria breeding atmosphere

THE SICK LIST

It is very encouraging to note that a great many of our sick folks are improving although others take their places Mr Peter Cline has been very ill but is now better Mrs P R Jewell is improving a little Mr A M Young is still an invalid the children of Mr S W Black are considered out of danger

WILL NOT ACCEPT

Professor J D Robb who was selected as city superintendent and principal of the Albina schools has declined to accept the position on account of other matters of importance claiming his attention This is to be very much regretted as the professor stands at the head of the profession on the coast

Mr and Mrs J M Pittinger have gone to the Sound, to remain a short time Mr Pittinger has a branch real estate office there and it keeps him busy traveling back and forth to attend to business

SHOULD CONCEAL THE FACT

It Salmon Rise to a Fly England Will Want to Fight for Oregon

CASCADES W T June 28

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

The question as to whether or not Columbia river salmon will take the fly is a political one and was res adjudicata when the treaty by which the United States acquired the Oregon country was signed The British agents who were sent out to examine the country when it was in joint occupation of the two nations wet every fly in their books without raising a single fish and thereupon they reported that the country was not worth a contest and upon the strength of that report the imperial envoys conceded the forty ninth parallel as the boundary Now if the army officers at Vancouver prove that salmon will rise to a fly the British will claim that they signed the treaty alluded to above under a misapprehension and we will have to fight them for it yet I have no doubt but that the salmon on the Clackamas will rise to a fly but I suggest that to avoid the complications indicated above that those fishermen who catch the fish with flies should conceal that fact and allege that they gaffed them

REMARKABLE CURES BY ELECTRICITY.

A Case Similar to Senator Conkling's Cured by the Subtle Fluid

Editor Oregonian Last February I was taken with pneumonia which finally resulted in deafness and a terrible pain in my head and ear The greater part of six months I could not sleep only at short intervals My brain was so effected that I was not competent to attend to business Two physicians did all in their power to relieve me and one of them pronounced the case similar to that of ex Senator Conkling which terminated in his death I was advised to try Dr Darrin who cures by electricity After a few weeks treatment I am happy to say the pain has all left the swelling gone down and my reason has returned and I think with a few weeks more treatment I will be perfectly cured I am anxious that all should know of my relief and thus publicly sign my name

The Oregonian.

PORTLAND, FRIDAY, JUNE 28.

THE JEWS.

The dedication of the new synagogue to-day in this city is an interesting event and attests the rapid growth of the Jews on this coast in numbers and prosperity. The most sickening pages in the history of religious and racial persecution wrought by so-called Christian churches are those which describe the horrible cruelties once practiced upon the Jews in every country in Europe. At the coronation of Richard the First in 1189 five hundred Jews were massacred. Five hundred Jews cut their throats in York castle in 1190 rather than be tortured to death by the mob that surrounded them. In 1204 King John butchered a number of Jews and tortured others horribly drawing their teeth with pincers to extort money from them. Seven hundred Jews were slain in London in 1262, two hundred and sixty seven in 1268 and finally in 1290 all the Jews in England to the number of 16,511, were banished by Edward the First. Among the acts that attest the superior wisdom, toleration and humanity of Oliver Cromwell was his reversal of this edict of Edward the First, and his invitation to the Jews to return to England after an exile of 370 years. Cromwell gave a pension to the leader of these returning Jews.

The Jews were banished from Spain, Portugal and France in the Fifteenth century and the Spanish Inquisition treated them with awful cruelty. In Germany the Jews were burned by thousands in the public square from 1348 to 1350 during the prevalence of a great pestilence, which the ignorant populace charged to the poisoning of the wells by the Jews. Moses Maimonides a Jew of genius, who surpassed all his contemporaries as a writer upon philosophy and law, was forced to fly from Cordova, in Spain, in 1167 and take refuge in Egypt, where he became the court physician of the sultan. It is a curious fact that under the Moorish rule of Spain the Jews were protected in all their rights and have always been treated with perfect toleration in Turkey, often rising to great distinction as ministers of the Ottoman empire, but in every Christian country the Jews have been frightfully persecuted by the influence of both Protestant and Catholic priests. To-day, in Russia the brutal populace murder and rob the Jews at will, and the czar takes little notice of it. In England a Jew had no right to own land until 1723. The bill for the emancipation of the Jews from civil disabilities was defeated in the British house of commons as late as 1836 by a vote of 228 to 165, although its passage was most eloquently urged by Macaulay and other great English statesmen of that day, and it was not until 1858 that a Jew could sit in parliament. Disraeli was in parliament long before this, but while he was of pure Jew lineage, he had been baptized in the English church. Disraeli, however, was always proud of his lineage and never lost a chance to forward the cause of Jewish emancipation. Austria did not remove the civil disabilities of the Jews until 1867, and to-day, in Germany there is a large faction that never lose an opportunity of insulting the Jews by a display of the coarsest kind of hostility, whether in business, society or politics. To-day in all Europe save Russia and Roumania Jews are no longer debarred from holding real estate, and within recent years the rich Jews of Italy and other countries of Europe have become heavy land holders in many instances buying property that had belonged to the monastic orders, which Catholics were forbidden to purchase.

There were representatives of the Semitic race among the first immigrants to the American colonies, but they were too few to excite any spirit of persecution such as oppressed them in Europe, and it is only within the last thirty years that the Jews in America have risen rapidly to great and increasing influence in important lines of business. It is the unanimous testimony of competent teachers in the public schools of New York city that the most acute and industrious pupils are the Jews. The New York press bears testimony to the fact that "proportionately to their numbers they are far more frequently encountered in trade, finance and the professions than any other race." They are eminent in music, the drama, law, medicine, in everything save the purely manual and productive employments. The Jews have always been distinguished for scholarship, they were the best physicians that were known in the middle ages and on the roll of Germany's great scholars there are very many Jews. It was only the other day that a celebrated Jewish scholar was elected professor of Oriental languages in Columbia college, New York. Jewish pupils in the public schools of New York are described as not only quicker of comprehension and more ambitious than Christian pupils but also more obedient and respectful to their teachers, because a judicious teacher receives unceasing support at the hands of Jewish parents. There are in New York city to-day 50,000 Jews, as many as there are in London with four times the population. They are destined to rapidly grow stronger every year in America because of the anti-Semitic agitation that prevails so offensively in Austria and Germany and the persecutions they suffer in Russia. In America they have nothing to fear and the freest field in the world for the exercise of their extraordinary aptitude for business and the world of affairs. Though it is not fifty years since even enlightened England refused to remove the civic disabilities of the Jews, yet to-day, in proportion to their numbers the Jews are the most prosperous and successful people in a worldly sense, on the face of the globe. Educated to be industrious, energetic, economical and enterprising they have few paupers among them and to the credit of their religion be it said they take care of their poor. The Jewish synagogue unlike too many Christian churches takes care of its poor instead of taxing all other religions to build them an almshouse.

INTERPRETED AT PHILADELPHIA

We are getting news back from Philadelphia about the contest between the Villard and Smith parties at Portland on the 17th. In its financial article the Philadelphia Press says:

> The news from Portland means that Elijah Smith and the Union Pacific have beaten Mr. Villard out of the Oregon Navigation; that the Union Pacific has full control of that company and will reduce the guarantee on the Oregon Navigation stock to 4 per cent., that the dissolution of the Oregon Transcontinental Company will soon take place, and that an alliance, offensive and defensive, has been formed between the Union Pacific and Manitoba roads. If any deal is made for the Oregon Navigation stock in the Oregon Transcontinental treasury it will be a matter of interest only to the parties to it as the Union Pacific has full control of the Oregon Navigation. This will give Mr. Adams the opportunity to reduce the guarantee for which he has been working all year. It is not improbable that the Northern Pacific's stock in the Oregon Transcontinental treasury will shortly be sold to a syndicate at about market rates. The relations of the Northern Pacific and the Union Pacific are likely to be pleasant, and it is not impossible that a trackage agreement will be entered into which will prevent for a time the building of any new roads on the Northern Pacific coast. It will be some weeks before the future of the railroads out there can be clearly seen, but there ought to be peace and harmony between the Northern Pacific and the new transcontinental line, the Union Pacific.

In explanation of these statements it is proper to say that the Press is very favorable to the Philadelphia or Wright party in the Northern Pacific, and its interpretation of the result at Portland is probably denied from that quarter. Editorially the Press also makes this statement, which we reproduce for the "news" it presents:

> The defeat of Mr. Villard in the Oregon Navigation was a genuine surprise. Some weeks ago the street was entirely occupied with the great contest for the control of the Oregon Transcontinental Company. The real fight was for the controlling interest in Oregon Navigation shares which the Oregon Transcontinental held in its treasury. Mr. Villard won, but on going out to Portland he discovered that under the laws of the state of Oregon he had no right to vote the stock. He, therefore, made a settlement by which the Union Pacific comes into complete control of the Oregon Navigation.

This may go on record as one of the many sided views of the result of the late contest for control of the O. R. & N. The interesting feature of this statement is its revelation that the Philadelphia or Wright party in the Northern do not think that Villard was the winner.

SIMON CAMERON

Simon Cameron, of Pennsylvania, died Wednesday evening at Lancaster, aged 90 years. He came of a race that had served the country faithfully, and throughout his entire career he showed that the same spirit animated him. His rise from poverty to wealth, from obscurity to political power, illustrates the grand possibilities presented in American life. He was pre-eminently a self-made man, owing his success in life to industry, integrity and above all to good common sense. From the successful publisher of a newspaper he became the cashier of a bank, projected and built railroads and interested himself in all that concerned the public welfare.

His first political office was that of commissioner to settle the claims of the Winnebago Indians. He was then elected to the United States senate in 1845 as a protective democrat, was elected to the senate repeatedly afterwards and was the choice of the republicans of Pennsylvania for the presidency in 1860.

Cameron's career as a national statesman began at the Chicago convention in 1860 when the republican party came forward as a powerful national organization and declared an enduring antagonism against slavery. Cameron's great activity in the campaign that followed enlisted the gratitude of Lincoln, and no sooner was the latter declared elected than he turned to Cameron for guidance and advice urging him to enter the cabinet. Later on it was greatly in opposition to his personal feelings and wishes that Lincoln saw that in order to avoid greater friction, it was necessary that Cameron should resign from the cabinet, which he did on January 11, 1862.

Mr. Lincoln had so much confidence in Mr. Cameron that he sent him as minister to Russia, and insisted that Cameron should name his successor in the war department. He selected Edwin M. Stanton. While filling the Russian mission Mr. Cameron frustrated an intrigue with Napoleon at its head, between England, France and Russia in the interest of the Southern Confederacy and returned to this country in time to be of signal service to Lincoln in the perilous times immediately preceding the close of the war.

In 1867 he was again returned to the senate, and remained in that body until 1877. When he voluntarily retired from office his son J. Donald Cameron was selected to fill the position. In 1887 he paid a visit to Europe, and received great honor abroad. Upon his retirement from active politics he did not remain idle, but managed his vast private interests, and gave that good advice to his political friends warranted by his wonderful experience.

Simon Cameron had spent sixty five years in active public service. Two generations have grown up since his entrance into public life, yet he developed with the growth of the age. He never dropped from public attention and his name became no mere empty tradition of past glory.

Roscoe Conkling said that Cameron was the wisest politician that ever lived. But the judgment of posterity will be that he was more than a mere politician. He was like Warwick, not king himself yet a maker of kings. Among Americans entitled to the title of national statesmen, Simon Cameron justly has a place for he had formulated in his broad mind what he deemed was the mission of this country, and bent all the energies of a life to the accomplishment of that mission.

Dr. Jeffries, physician at the state penitentiary states that McAllister, the boy murderer did not die of consumption, but that a post-mortem examination revealed that death resulted from suppurative inflammation of the brain, and that the same was hereditary in his family. This disease is a species of insanity and the state prison therefore was not the proper place for the confinement of the lad. True, McAllister was guilty of a great offense, but his responsibility for the deed will henceforth be questioned. But this brings us to the consideration of the question what disposition shall be made of such cases? The penitentiary is not the proper place, nor is the criminal insane enough for confinement in an asylum. The state must take this matter in hand; the safety of society demands it.

Robert Lincoln has been honored by two administrations not because he was the son of his immortal father but because he was a typical American who had proved his capacity wherever tried. Mr. Lincoln in the diplomatic service to which his country has called him will represent the United States with ability and dignity and there need be no fear that he will return to his native land transformed into an English dude aping the follies of the cockneys and ignoring their virtues. The queen has shown our minister marked consideration while he has made a favorable impression on Gladstone.

A writer in the New York Tribune descants to the extent of a column and a half, on the advantages accruing to the American student at Oxford, England and in the German universities. We have some pretty fair institutions of learning in this country, and although no one can object if the young American wishes to study abroad, it is greatly to be doubted if that will make him more capable of performing the duties of citizenship.

Even Dr. McDow, who in a cowardly manner assassinated Captain Dawson, the editor of the Charleston News and Courier has his sympathizers. A chivalrous military company has honored him by electing him its surgeon. The evidence against the murderous physician reveals as brutal a murder as was ever recorded in the history of crime.

The strike as a means of gaining concessions is gradually losing popularity. The mercantile agency of Bradstreet's reported in 1887 for the first five months of the year 611 strikes and 212,317 strikers, in 1888 for the same period 389 strikes and 111,201 strikers and this year for the same time 296 strikes and only 75,110 strikers.

Chicago papers show that there is no doubt whatever that Burke arrested at Winnipeg for the murder of Dr. Cronin, is the man Williams who hired the expressman to haul the furniture to the cottage where Cronin was murdered.

If The Oregonian knew how to say, or had power to say anything that would bring about or tend to bring about the appointment of a suitable and efficient man for chief of police it would be glad to say it.

The Chicago police seem determined to refute the charge of inefficiency in the matter of running murderers down if it has to arrest every man in the country for complicity in the Cronin murder. There is a chance that there will be more mischief done by this feverish activity to do something than by the normal condition of the force that contents itself with letting others do something without much regard as to the character of the deed.

The English government paid to its international ocean lines during last year $2,500,000 for carrying the mails. At 5 per cent interest this represents a good return on invested capital amounting to $50,000,000. That is one of the ways by which a government can aid in building up its commerce on the high seas.

The local papers of this state, Washington and Idaho territories are warning the people to make better preparations to fight fire when it comes. Now is the time. Don't be niggardly in the matter of expense. Money spent in this direction is absolute economy as it causes insurance companies to lower their rates.

The conviction of Frank Jarvis for one stage gives Judge Stearns the second opportunity within the week to fix a penalty for a shameless crime. It is to be hoped that he will do as well in this case as he did in that of Schneider, who was sentenced Monday, and as much better as the law will permit.

The Duke of Newcastle is expending $250,000 in building a church on his grounds at Chember, England. At present he is in this country looking for a rich wife, one who would regard the title of "duchess" as an equivalent for her money.

No other blood medicine so utilizes the results of scientific inquiry as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Five 10-acre tracts left, to be sold this week.

These tracts lie near the new Electric Motor Line, southeast of city, and as near [illegible] Mount Tabor.

The land slopes toward the west and lies very high, so that every acre affords a magnificent view of Portland.

The soil is very rich.

Land having no better view and at same distance from heart of city, at Mt. Tabor, commands from $2000 to $4000 per acre.

The Completion of the Electric Motor by September next will work a marvelous change in the neighborhood of these tracts, so that they promise greater and speedier advance in prices than any other surburban property.

One of these 10 acre tracts will, in a few years, make the fortunate owner thereof an independent if not a wealthy, man.

The time is limited.

These tracts are disappearing from the market.

PORTLAND AND VICINITY.

LET US RECEIVE THE EXCURSIONISTS.—A St. Paul dispatch to the Fargo, Dak., Argus, says that the finest as well as the largest excursion ever held will be that to travel over the Northern Pacific next month. It is a millionaire party with capitalists from Boston, New York city and state. In fact from pretty nearly all of the big cities of the East. There will be something like 200 in the party who will travel in the best cars that can be turned out by the Pullman company and it will require several sections of vestibuled cars to carry them all comfortably. The excursion is coming to this coast and is composed of men representing many millions of capital, and they are looking for investments. The Argus says "Fargo ought to have these people for a day. Here is a chance for the Board of Trade and business men to make a ten strike." Tacoma is preparing to receive them and Portland should prepare to give them a fitting reception.

GOOD WATER ON TILLAMOOK BAR.—Captain W. Young's U. S. engineers, has returned from a visit to Tillamook and the Nehalem. He took down Captain Jefferson to act as inspector of the work of building the sheet piling dike for the improvement of Swan island bar, which will be commenced at once. Captain Young says that there is good water on Tillamook bar, seventeen to eighteen feet at high tide, and that the reason the schooner South Coast broke her rudder crossing the bar was that she got out of the channel. He visited the Nehalem where Mr. Lyde, of his office, is making a survey of the bay and bar, which will soon be completed, when he will go to Siuslaw. Captain Young returned home across the mountains and says the fishing in the Trask is good now. He saw some beauties caught there.

AN IRREDUCIBLE FUND.—At the last commencement of the University of Oregon, Mr. Henry Failing gave the regents, in trust $2500 and Mr. C. E. Beekman gave them $1000, to be kept as an irreducible fund, the interest thereof to be given in prizes for the best and second best original orations delivered by members of the graduating class of the university. The Failing prize is not to exceed $150 and the Beekman prize not to exceed $100. If the income for the first ten years shall exceed the prizes the excess shall be added to the irreducible fund, and thereafter the excess, if any, shall be added to the fund or the prizes as the regents may determine.

MORE RAILROAD LINES.—Work is being pushed on the O. R. & N. Co.'s extension from Rockford to Spokane Falls, a large number of men and teams being employed. A very large force is also employed on the road across the Cœur d'Alene reservation. The Northern Pacific has let a contract for the construction of forty-six miles on the central Washington branch. This branch starts from Cheney and is already completed for forty miles, and the forty-six additional miles will extend the road to eight miles beyond Wilbur over to the coulee. The contract was let to Colonel Ward, of St. Paul.

THE CHILD WILL RECOVER.—About two weeks since a 2-year-old child of Mr. R. Ehinger, residing at the corner of First and E. streets, fell from the second-story window of the house to the ground, a distance of sixteen feet, striking upon the side of the head, making a crack four inches long. The physician called skillfully elevated the depressed portion of the skull so as to relieve the brain from all pressure; the child began to improve the second day after, has continued to improve, and will soon be entirely well. Such an injury to a grown person would have been fatal.

DEATH OF CLERK CHURCH'S STEPFATHER.—Deputy Clerk A. N. Church, of the state circuit court, received a telegram yesterday announcing the sudden death of his stepfather at Willimantic, Conn. The death occurred in a courtroom where the deceased was engaged in appraising damages done by a railroad company. When called he did not answer to his name, and it was supposed he was asleep. A bailiff shook him slightly, and not being able to arouse him a physician was sent for, but before he reached the courtroom the old gentleman was dead.

THE T. J. POTTER.—The elegant steamer, T. J. Potter, will be brought around from the Sound early next week, weather permitting, and commence making regular trips to the seaside shortly after the Fourth of July. The Olympian, which has been undergoing a system of repairs for some time past, will take the Potter's run on the Sound. From present indications it does not look as if much opposition will be made for the seaside traffic this season as last. It will probably be divided between the Telephone and Potter.

DEDICATION OF THE NEW SYNAGOGUE.—The new Jewish synagogue on Tenth and Main streets, will be dedicated with appropriate services this afternoon. The doors will be opened at 4 o'clock and the services will begin half an hour later. One thousand invitations have been issued and only those holding them will be admitted. The leading Jewish mercantile houses will close at 3 P. M.

THE RIVERS TO BE DREDGED.—The work of dredging the rivers will soon be begun. The government dredge will go down to improve St. Helens bar, and the city dredge will start in on Postoffice bar and cut a channel there which will put an end to the obstruction there for all time. The low water in the rivers makes this a favorable season for improving the channels.

EXCURSION.—A fine opportunity will be given tourists and strangers to-morrow to view the beautiful scenery of the Columbia river. The M. E. Sunday-school will give an excursion on Steamer Multnomah, leaving Alder-street wharf at 8:30 A. M. The Willamette silver band will accompany the excursion. Fare, $1; children under 15, 50c.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC AT ASTORIA.—The Northern Pacific Railroad Company has entered into traffic arrangements with the Vancouver Transportation Company whereby business will be transported to and from Astoria and Lower Columbia river points and through Eastern points at published transcontinental rates.

PRESBYTERIAN EXCURSION.—Everybody is invited to join the picnic party to Multnomah Falls, leaving Taylor-street wharf this morning on steamer Lurline at 8:30 sharp. Adults, 50c; children, 25c. Refreshments will be served on board to those who desire.

FUNERAL OF TIMOTHY SHEA.—The funeral of Timothy W. Shea, the young man killed a few days since by a P. & W. V. R. R. car, took place from Holman & DeLin's undertaking parlors yesterday afternoon. The interment was made in Calvary cemetery.

ED LYONS APPOINTED TRAINMASTER.—Edward Lyons has been appointed trainmaster of the O. R. & N. Co., at Walla Walla, vice C. R. Meeker, resigned. Ed was once trainmaster at Umatilla but resigned to go into other business.

THE MANZANITA SAILS.—The Manzanita has sailed from Astoria for Destruction island with the boilers and siren for the fog signal connected with the lighthouse being erected there.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.—Judge Deady will deliver an opinion in this court this morning in the case of the Asbestine Tiling Manufacturing Company against the city of Portland.

CONTINUATION.—J. Selling & Co.'s 8½ cent gingham sale continues for two days. There are about 100 pieces left, regular price 12½ and 16 cents.

MONEY TO LOAN on improved real estate. Apply to the Oregon Mortgage Company, Abington building, 106 Third street.

LILLY CLAY'S GAIETY COMPANY.

First Appearance at the New Park Theater—A Variety Show of a Very Mediocre Order.

The efficacy of highly colored lithographs of semi-nude females posted on conspicuous billboards and in other prominent places to draw a house could not have had a better illustration than the packed audience that filled the New Park theater last evening to witness the initial performance of an aggregation calling itself "Lilly Clay's Colossal Gaiety Company."

It was difficult to discern where the appropriateness of the third word of their name came in, unless it was intended to designate the artificial hip anatomy of one of the "beauties" of the company, for in all things else the name is a brilliant misnomer. It is a variety leg show, pure and simple, and not of an artistic order either. The talent, barring the negro sketch team, Emerson and Cook, and the contortionist, Hilton, who are all clever people, is supposed to be of a burlesque order, but their singing, speaking and acting is anything but artistic.

In short, their place is on the boards of a variety rather than a legitimate theater, and it argues supreme nerve upon the part of the management of the company to ask the public to pay the regular prices to witness a show, a better one than which can be seen at the Standard for one-third the money.

Last night, it is understood, the usual 25 cent-seats in the gallery were raised to 50 cents—another nervy piece of business.

More space has already been devoted to the company than their merits deserve, and the public can decide whether they wish to attend the remaining performances to-night, to-morrow night and Saturday matinee.

THE CASE OF DUKE EVANS.

Agent Powers, of the Aid Society, Talks of the Young Man's Career.

Mr. Ira F. Powers, agent of the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society, called at THE OREGONIAN office last evening and told his story of the Duke Evans case. He said:

"When the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society was organized, this boy Evans was one of the first we had anything to do with. He was in jail for some offense and I obtained his release and got a place for him down the river. He stayed there for awhile and then came here and was implicated with two other boys in the robbery of old man Allard, for which he was sent to the penitentiary. When he was released he returned to this city and went to work but was soon in trouble again. This time he was arrested for breaking into a house in North Portland for which he was indicted. As he was over 17 years of age it was feared that the society could do nothing for him, but I asked the society to give me a chance to see what I could do with him. My request was granted, and I had an understanding with his mother, and he was sent to Cœur d'Alene. While there he was taken sick and came home. I told his mother that that was all right, but when he had recovered he must leave the city. He did not do so, and I offered him a place in my factory. He accepted, but worked only an hour or so and went away. I sent word to him and he came back and worked half an hour or an hour and left again. Since then he has been working here and there at times, but has had no steady employment, and beside has been keeping bad company. I could have given him all the work he wanted at from $2 to $2 50 a day. From the company he kept I feared he would get into trouble, and I sent him word that he would have to go to work or leave town, or I would turn him over to the authorities. He replied substantially that he would leave town when he pleased. I then told Officer Wood and Jailer Dougherty that if they ran across Evans to arrest him. My object was to get him in jail so that I could compel him to go to work in my factory. I was taking this step for his own good, as I had decided to try him once more. Now he is in trouble again, just as I expected he would be. I simply told District Attorney McGinn that we had tried the boy and had done the best we could with him, but without success, and had decided to turn him over to the authorities, for if he got into new trouble the society would be blamed. I thought this was the best course to pursue, and I think so still."

MRS. EVANS STANDS FIRM.

"I do not wish to screen my son in any way," said Mrs. Evans, mother of Duke Evans, the young man whom Officer Wood, of the Boys and Girls' Aid Society, is charged with endeavoring to railroad to the penitentiary, yesterday. "Nor do I want to do an injustice to Officer Wood, the Boys and Girls' Aid Society or any one else. Officer Wood called on me to-day and told me that he would not commence action against me for the statement I made for publication in THE OREGONIAN. I am not a bit afraid of him bringing the matter into court, for if he does I will stand up for what I have already said, and will tell other things of which I have not yet spoken. I feel very thankful to Mr. Powers, the agent of the society, to the society in general, to District Attorney McGinn and to the grand jury of the spring of 1888 for their aid in securing the suspension of the indictment against my son last year."

Mrs. Evans desires to correct that part of her statement which says that Duke had been living at Vancouver. She says that he had been staying there for two or three days only.

THE FIELD OF CITY POLITICS.

What May Be Done and What May Not Be Done About Removals.

"Murphy, is the battle over?
What are those men about?"

The desperate struggle between the two factions of republicans on June 17, when, by the aid of the police force, under the leadership of Commissioner Joseph Simon, the democrats were enabled to defeat Schwab in the Second ward, and re-elect Gerdes in the First ward, was not much of a defeat for the republicans who are largely in the majority in this city, and who have seven out of the nine councilmen elected from their ranks.

The democrats, however, imagine that the result on election day was a Waterloo for the republicans, and all the city officials are to be turned out to make room for democrats, except W. S. Chapman, superintendent of streets, whose efforts in favor of Schwab were not of a nature to render it necessary to punish him by removal.

Fred Matthews, overseer of the street-cleaning department, is to go to make room for William Connors. There is no doubt about this. That City Surveyor Paget will be removed to make a place for C. Oliver, and Auditor Wood to give Ben Norden a show, and Deputy Auditor W. Matthews to make room for Charles Christie, is what Gerdes and his friends fondly hope; but with seven republican councilmen, it is hardly probable that such a general cleaning out of republicans will actually take place. Nor is it at all probable that such a sweeping change would be agreeable to the public.

The term of office of fire commissioner James Lotan expires July 1, and Mayor DeLashmutt is being driven to desperation by politicians, some of whom wish Lotan reappointed, and others do not want him appointed. The mayor said yesterday that he was thinking of fleeing to his stud farm in Washington county, and remaining in retirement till the first of the month. Verily there is no peace for the wicked nor rest for the weary in this sad, wicked world.

SARATOGA CHIPS.

The Only Factory West of Chicago Just Started in Portland.

It is perhaps a matter of news to most people to be informed that the delicious Saratoga chips are an article of commerce no less staple than the raw potato. Such is the case, however, and hundreds of bushels are now annually consumed on this coast that are of Eastern manufacture. John W. Skiles, jr., who has had a number of years' experience in this line of goods, has just started a factory for their manufacture at 67 Pine street. An inspection of this factory is one of the interesting features of a visit to Portland. He employs constantly twelve to fifteen hands and uses daily about 1000 pounds of potatoes. These are all pared by machinery, after which the eyes and all imperfections are carefully removed, and then washed through three or four waters. A paring machine slices them to the thinness of a wafer, all slices being of equal thickness. In the arrangement for cooking and preparing the chips for the market the same care is used as in the best appointed kitchen in the city. Mr. Skiles expects to supply the coast with Saratoga chips, and from the great demand from Pullman cars, lunch counters, saloons, private families and shipping, he expects before long to more than double the present capacity of his works. The trade generally is cordially invited to call and inspect the new factory.

GREAT SUCCESS.

PORTLAND FRIDAY, JUNE 28.

THE WORK OF GREED

While the attention of benevolent and philanthropic people has been centered upon a Pennsylvania valley devastated by flood the people in the mining districts of Northern Illinois have been undergoing sufferings that disaster could scarcely intensify since the pangs of starvation, from whatever cause, produce misery the most pitiable The Chicago Herald of the 21st inst. declares that 5000 workingmen in these districts are suffering for want of food, that 10 000 people are menaced by actual starvation without means in their power to prevent the impending calamity and that in all 50 000 people are involved in a struggle with wealthy corporations who only demand honest work at living wages Details of the case show that whether these people work or do not work it is the same since the wage allowed do not supply the actual necessaries of life in their poor homes The circumstances that have led to this pitiable plight in the several mining communities show an oppression on the part of operators that it would be hard to surpass in the mining districts of the Old World, in the pits of which sooty begrimed men toil year in and year out with barely sufficient compensation to keep base life afoot.

These details though of vital importance to those immediately concerned are of little interest to the outside world Suffice it to say that the pay per ton for mining coal enabled an expert and able bodied man by hard work to earn $25 per month previous to the commencement of the present differences, but through direct cuts and various new rulings this amount has been reduced 40 per cent that compromise has been exhausted and that helpless men and their scarcely more helpless wives and children are by scores becoming weak and desperate through want

It is scarcely conceivable that such a state of affairs can exist in this country among men who are able and willing to work asking only wages whereby they can live It certainly appears from this statement that the charitable institutions of the great state of Illinois are not alone in need of special legislation for their proper government. A special session of the legislature if called as suggested by Judge Prendergast of Chicago, a few days ago to look after the abuses that obtain through corruption in these institutions might find equal work for humanity in devising some method for the relief of the oppressed laborers outside of asylum walls whose only demand is work at pay that will supply the ordinary necessities of life in a laborer's home In the one instance the politicians of a corrupt city hold the key to the situation In the other the corporations of a wealthy state are masters And as no legislature has yet been organized that has proved itself able to withstand the blandishments of the first or the glittering power of second hope for relief from that quarter is not very bright

A SOUTHERN OPINION

The weekly Age Herald published at Birmingham Ala is an intensely Southern democratic journal but it confesses that the South has had quite enough of Cleveland It compliments him as a good man who as president was void of sectionalism and entertained no prejudices growing out of the last war which is a neat and ingenuous description of a Northern man who was destitute of sympathy for the cause of the Union so much so that he could play seven up without exhibiting any sign of emotion when all his neighbors were in tears over defeat or making the air vocal with cheers for victory When Grant was before Vicksburg and Sherman was before Atlanta, when Richmond fell and Lee surrendered Cleveland never spoke save when it was necessary to ask what's trumps or to call for fresh beer The Birmingham editor is entirely safe in his judgment that a man capable of such unbroken unruffled stolidity during the war was a president who entertained no prejudices growing out of that war And yet this Birmingham editor says

> Mr Cleveland has had his day and it will not be possible for him to receive the democratic nomination in 1892 There is an evident effort to keep him prominently before the public in order that he may be available for renomination but it will not work For very apparent reasons Mr Cleveland can not again be chosen to lead the democratic hosts

The reasons recited are that Cleveland by becoming a convert to Carlisle's tariff theories which he advocated with the rhetorical sophistry of Watterson made a great blunder because he antagonized the interests of the manufacturers the miners and the industrial classes generally and thus organized his defeat with his own hand The Birmingham editor declares that Cleveland is not desirable because the leading journals of the party are all opposed to his selection as the party's choice in 1892 The effort to boom him on part of the New York county democracy will fail because the national democratic party will not be disposed to submit to any dictation from New York in the next convention The Alabama editor thinks Cleveland is not to be thought of that Hill is too much of a pot house politician that Whitney is an aristocrat, that Gray of Indiana is hardly large enough for the place and then it reaches a most lame and impotent conclusion when it says Ex Congressman James E Campbell may be the next democratic nominee for the presidency Campbell was prosecuting attorney of Butler county Ohio four years and served two terms in congress—a man of absolute obscurity in law or politics compared with either Whitney or Governor Gray Campbell is the kind of fellow of whom Douglas Jerrold always delighted to ask Pray sir are you anybody in particular? This Birmingham editor must be a blood relation of the Irishman who impressively said Grant was a very dacent respictable soldier in his way, but he couldn't compare for a moment wid Michael Corcoran or Thomas Francis Meagher

Richard Mansfield who a few years ago was a drummer for a Boston commercial house in the last three years has developed into a leading American actor He is now in England, where he has captured London by a superb presentation of Shakespeare's Richard III Mr Mansfield has met with a richer success than was accorded Edwin Booth who did not meet with approval until generous Irving took him in hand This does not prove Mansfield as good an actor as Booth The relations between the two nations are more cordial now than they were then That is all

Manufacturers of pig iron in Ohio and Pennsylvania are very much exercised over the statement of the general manager of a Southern iron company that pig iron can be made in Alabama at a cost of $7 per ton With mines as rich as those of the Northern states and with fuel and labor more than 50 per cent cheaper there is not a doubt but that Southern production has already cheapened the price of iron and caused a reduction in the wages of the Northern laborer

Cure for Bronchitis

Mr F Carey of Erie Penn, writes as follows I had bronchitis for over two years My life was made utterly wretched by it It was cough cough cough, until at times I thought I would choke to death I tried every remedy It seems to me—so outside—more inside. Now and then I would get slight relief, then back again It would come worse than ever Last winter I started using ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS and kept them on I felt better almost immediately and have kept one on my chest almost ever since using it as a chest protector I cannot say too much for them, for I am cured of that disease

PORT TOWNSEND.

Phenomenal Growth of the City During the Present Year

Rapid Review of the Development of the City, and of Prospects for Future Growth

PORT TOWNSEND June 19

The port of entry the picturesque city of Port Townsend, never rose more charmingly upon our view than when we came into her harbor to day The city seemed to glide into our presence and make a curtsy to the crowd of eager passengers, as if she knew the railroad magnates were on board and looking upon her with more than passing interest to decide whether she was to have the long expected and much talked of railroad

Instead of being dressed in holiday attire Port Townsend wore her working clothes and the music of hammer and saw clear down to the water's edge, took the place of brass bands and reception committees

The streets are decorated on either side with piles of brick and mortar and the hod carrier will run over you if you do not get out of his way

The crowds of people waiting for the boat to land are as great in number as if they had been waiting for an incoming express train arriving but once a day—though this is but one of many boats landing here daily The whistle of incoming and outgoing boats is almost constant and looking out over the water you can see sailing vessels being towed in and the Alaska and San Francisco steamers waiting to take on their last supplies before starting on sea voyage The Sound steamers are always crowded and Port Townsend seems to have more than her share of passengers to day You can see speculators home seekers investors and former residents of Seattle, who are just coming to make Townsend their future home

There was a large excursion party mostly Boston people who not having seen a Boston paper for two weeks are eagerly devouring a ten days old paper, found by some of their party on board There was also the usual Kodak fiend and we saw him level his instrument at Colonel Haines on the wharf at Seattle but the plate was probably too small to take in all the badges that the Colonel wore

Before the boat touched the wharf we noted many improvements and we felt the patriotic pride of all Americans in knowing that the next landing of this vessel would be on British soil at Victoria, where the sleepy and listless surroundings are in such marked contrast to the wide awake progression on American soil

The substantial and rapid growth of any town is interesting and it is this more than common growth that rivets our attention in Port Townsend

It is the building of block upon block of solid brick stores with stone foundations it is the good work that is put into the building, stamping the faith of the builders and while this good work goes on the merchants are waiting for the store rooms to be finished and counting the days until they can be occupied

Since January 1 1889 one half million dollars have been expended in building and eighteen business blocks are the result fourteen of which are models in brick architecture Among the finest of the blocks are those contracted for and now being built by Mr Kuhn and Mr Miller

The business blocks are not only stretching along and lengthening the two principal business streets near the water front but are also climbing the hills and bluffs and finding a home in what was formerly considered the resident portion of the city A half of one block is already built in continuous business houses Others are dotted here and there showing that the future business portion of Port Townsend will intrude itself where quiet homes now lie and flower beds and window gardens will be transplanted to pastures new or reproduced on prints dry good counters and pattern bonnets

The residence portion of the city is springing up far beyond the wildest imaginings of the oldest settler and spacious houses usurp fir tipped hills and make the meadows green with envy If one wished to count the new houses he could count quickly [illegible] in front of which are wide new sidewalks until you reach the high hills

GRADED STREETS

Main street in Port Townsend is one and a half miles long lined on either side with business houses Within the last three months this entire street has been filled in with gravel and brought up to the required grade The second business street running parallel with Main street has been filled in like manner and the hill cut down to an easy grade thus giving to Port Townsend over two and a half miles of finely graveled road on her two principal business streets in the part of the city below the hill

The city is already lighted by electric lights and the motor line of street railway which is about completed added to the natural advantages of location gives to Port Townsend a metropolitan air that few cities of her size possess

The motor line is graded built and ironed This has all been done in the past sixty days The cars are now en route from the East

The prevalent fear of the Sound cities of an inadequate water supply has caused the question of creating new water works to be agitated When the plans are consummated there will be two water supplies as Port Townsend already possesses the reservoir system of water works The demand for this second supply is increased by the universally popular desire of the people to secure the best and purest water for home use Numerous lakes are in the vicinity of Port Townsend and the near future will doubtless see her possessed of this greatest of blessings and protection a plentiful water supply

One of the recent important commercial events is the transformation of the private bank formerly known as Clapp & Fuerbach's bank into a state banking institution with the addition of several of the strongest moneyed men of the city as co partners This bank is to occupy one of the finest of the new brick buildings now under construction

A third bank, the Bank of Washington is also awaiting the completion of its new building on one of the finest corners in the city

Scarcely a boat arrives but brings some new comers to Port Townsend and among them are men of the best business ability and an abundance of capital also professional men merchants farmers mechanics and laborers

The sawmills in and around Port Townsend (and there are enough of them tributary to cut one half million feet of lumber a day) run night and day The local foundry and machine shops have doubled their capacity and force of one year ago These both furnish employment for a great many men and laborers and mechanics are in demand all the time

The marine ways or ship yards where vessels are being repaired and new ones built are in full operation and promise to be one of the leading industries

The iron works at Irondale across the bay are running day and night to fill San Francisco orders for pig iron The yield is nearly 100 tons per day and commands the highest price paid in the California or coast market

The discovery of coal but recently made immediately near the city happily supplies for all time to come a much needed want

Why is it that so many successful Portland gentlemen have invested in Port Townsend? Why are so many railroad officials here to day and why have they recently invested in both suburban and city property The Yankee method of answering a question by asking another might answer here Why have Elijah Smith Mr Holcomb and other officials of the Union Pacific and O R & N R R visited Port Townsend three times during the last twelve months and why does Governor Moore accompany them on a trip to inspect the city and surrounding country? If [illegible] which way the [illegible] will [illegible] the streets will not be as thickly strewn with straw as are the streets of Walla Walla during the [illegible] but the fact of the Port Townsend citizens [illegible] have raised voluntarily $100 000 as a bonus to be turned over when the Port Townsend & Southern railroad work commences in full will show something of the faith of the home people in the future of this city Port Townsend is now estimated as possessing a population of from 5000 to 6000 people At least one-half of this number have been acquired in the past fifteen months If such a city with such solid improvements as Port Townsend possesses, can grow to her present size without a railroad and all that a railroad brings to a city what strides to greatness power and wealth she will make when the iron horse comes steaming around the foot hills of the mountains and a line of elevators is seen on the wharves making of Port Townsend a commercial seaport city the equal of Duluth These elevators are sure to follow the railroad, and they will be a necessity as the records of the collector of customs show that the gross amount shipped in Sound products is double that of one year ago We expect the steam cars to be whistling in and out of Townsend before the end of 1889 C H

WHEAT—Nothing new has transpired to make a change in the wheat market. We quote Eastern Oregon and Washington $1 10, valley $1 17½@1 20. The fluctuations of the New York and Chicago markets to-day were as follows:

EGGS—The market is strong and the demand good. We quote 15c.

FREIGHTS—The situation remains without material change. But few charters are reported prior to arrival, and although the tonnage headed for the Pacific coast is heavy, the amount listed for this port is small, and growing very slowly. An obtainable rate for continent would be 40s with 2s 6d less direct. There are only two vessels in port at present; the Edinburgh, 1299, and Borrowdale, 1197, the former loading wheat and the latter flour, intending to finish with salmon. The Wanlock is at Astoria taking in flour and salmon. The following is a statement of the registered tonnage of the port:

LONDON GRAIN LETTER.

The London correspondent of the Northwestern Miller, writing under date of June 8, has the following:

The weather, both in this country and in France, has lately been very stormy and is still unsettled. In both countries, however, the crop prospects continue quite favorable, though further steady wet weather would be very prejudicial. At this moment the weather is very fine. In Germany and Italy there have also been severe storms, and while in the former country the outlook for the crops is fairly good, in Italy there are complaints. Hungary does not expect as good a crop as last year, but Austria speaks well of the present outlook. From Russia, however, the crop reports are very unfavorable, especially concerning the winter wheat. For several weeks past the commercial reports have been unfavorable, particularly from the Azof districts, where the winter-sown wheat is considered practically a failure. On Saturday these reports were confirmed by an official message from St. Petersburg, which stated that the crop prospects were bad. The dry frosts in the spring and the continuous drouth now will, it is considered, tend to a generally deficient harvest, both of winter and spring wheat. The latter is, indeed, now urgently in want of rain, and being the larger crop, continued dry weather would be all the more serious. If we add to this the less favorable reports concerning the American crops, it might have been expected that the wheat trade would be much firmer. Such, however, is not the case, as, though holders of Russian wheat naturally look for an advance and do not press, buyers remain very scarce and barely nibble, low as prices are. Californian wheat off the coast sold this week as low as 33s 4½d per 500 pounds, while the first transaction in new red winter wheat for shipment in July, has taken place this week at 30s 6d for a steamer cargo. New Californian wheat for prompt shipment is offering at 34s, but meets no buyers. On the other hand No. 2 Calcutta wheat for June shipment is obtainable at 31s 3d while Russian wheats sell at 28@32s per 492 lbs. Compared with these prices the average price of home-grown wheat is only 29s 9d per quarter. It is a fact too that farmers' reserves of English wheat are larger than they were a year ago, although of much inferior quality. I calculate, indeed, that our farmers are able to supply 1,200,000 bushels per week between now and August 31, leaving about 2,460,000 bushels per week to be obtained from abroad for that time, or about thirteen weeks—say 32,000,000 bushels of foreign wheat and flour in all. Toward this quantity we have afloat 800,000 bushels, so that Russia and the Atlantic ports have to supply a supplementary quantity of 21,200,000 bushels, or over 1,600,000 bushels per week. Russia cannot be expected to supply more than 6,000,000 bushels per week, so that unless the Atlantic ports can supply the rest we shall go short—a state of things which would be all the more serious if the weather became unfavorable either in America, England or France. Meanwhile, however, buyers remain passive, looking to America with its promised abundance to make good all deficiencies. The flour trade, both in London and Liverpool, has remained very dull, but no further decline is quoted. Hungarian flour is still extraordinarily cheap, viz, 28s@31s per 280 lbs c. i. f. for patents, but is still extremely slow to sell. A curious document has this week been issued by the Roumanian consul in London, who says that Roumanian wheat contains 20 per cent. more flour, of better quality, than either Hungarian or American, and that a Dresden conference advises Europe to use a mixture of 40 per cent. Roumanian to 60 per cent. of other sorts. All Roumanian would be better still, only not enough to supply all Europe is grown in Roumania. This is beautiful in its simplicity, seeing that the largest export of wheat from Roumania never reached 22,000,000 bushels, and its value is several shillings below either Hungarian or American. This document was issued with a view to counteract the effect of a recent Hungarian consular report which stated that Roumanian wheat was being palmed off for Hungarian in English markets.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, June 27.—The stock market to-day was even more quiet than that of yesterday, and the fluctuations were in everything except one or two stocks on a par with the business done. SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—Produce receipts past twenty-four hours included: 7000 ctls wheat, 2100 qr sks flour, 10,500 sks potatoes, 8200 ctls barley.

Freight and Charters—The freight market, for the week under review, has ruled very dull and inactive, owing to the very few vessels now in port suitable for grain carrying. Owners continue firm in their ideas and ask rates rather above shippers' views. There are no spot charters to be noted. The demand for lumber vessels has been active at fairly steady rates. The charters for the week have been: Ship Empress, Puget sound to Iquiqui, direct, at 52s 6d; Br bk Zolla, Port Gamble to Cork, U. K., chartered prior to arrival at 70s; Nor bk Monark, Puget sound to Melbourne; Br bk Florence Treat, Puget sound to Sydney; bk Gladoria, Puget sound to Valparaiso; Br bk William Fairburn, Puget sound to Sydney; Ital bk Principe di Napoli, Puget sound to Cork, U. K., chartered prior to arrival at California, Puget sound to Sydney; sch General Banning, Puget sound to the west coast, and Nor bk India, Puget sound to Melbourne. Coal chartering has been quiet, the only charters being the bk. C. O. Whitmore, Departure bay to Honolulu, and ship Belle O'Brien, Seattle to San Francisco.

Miscellaneous charters included the ship Robert L. Belknap, merchandise from this port to New York.

Wheat—The spot market ruled generally quiet, the shipping interest apparently having no pressing wants to fill and the quick dispatch of vessels on berth would indicate that exporters are supplied with sufficient stock to meet current engagements. Foreign advices have been of a hardening tendency, and public cables note a net advance of 6d per quarter on Pacific cargoes. Local holders consequently are less inclined to part with their holdings, except at an advance on present quotations. For spot lots of No 1 shipping prices range at $1 27½ to $1 30 per cental, the latter at the moment being more of an asking figure. Futures—The option market has been active and prices advanced steadily from $1 33⅛, the closing price one week ago for buyer year, to $1 38, the closing price yesterday. To-day there was a sharp decline, buyer year declining to $1 35¾. Sales were: 100 tons, buyer year, $1 35¼, 250 tons at $1 35½, 300 tons at $1 35⅝, 100 tons at $1 35¼. Buyer season, new, $1 41⅝; seller year, new, $1 27¼.

Afternoon session—Buyer year opened $1 35½; closed $1 35⅝; seller year, new, $1 26⅝.

Barley—An active business has been done in feed descriptions and stocks have been materially reduced. Prices ruled firm at 65c for choice feed and 60@62½c per cental for inferior grades. At the close the market shows easier symptoms, and appearances indicate a return to lower values. Options, fairly active. Buyer year, 80⅝c.

Afternoon session—Buyer year, 80⅝c; seller year, new, 70c.

Oats—The easing up on receipts and a better concentration of stocks have firmed up the market, and holders are less at the mercy of buyers. Choice feed, $1 05, with sales of fancy feed at $1 07½; lower feed descriptions, 95c@$1 02½; milling, $1 07½@1 10.

Potatoes—There is a steady demand, and prices are well maintained. Quote Burbanks, $1@1 75; Peerless and Garnet Chile, 60@90c.

Bags—Easy; demand light; Calcuttas spot lots, 7⅝@8c, July 8@8¼c.

Millstuffs—There is quite an active demand for bran and values are firm. Quote all kinds, $12@14; middlings, $12 50@16 per ton.

Wool—Trading has been moderately active on spot, the bulk of transactions taking place in the interior. Advices from the leading Eastern wool centers are encouraging, the demand being brisk and prices firm. Quote California, 12@23c; Oregon valley, 20@23c; Eastern, 13@20c.

Hops—Nothing of importance doing locally and quotations nominal at 16@18c.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

CHICAGO, June 27.—Wheat receipts past twenty-four hours, at the seven principal points east of the Rocky mountains, were 119,000 bushels; shipments from those points for the same time were 207,000 bushels.

Wheat—Weaker; opening—80⅝c July, 78¾c August. Noon—81¾c June, 80⅝c July, 78c August. Closing—81½ June, 79¼c July, 77¼c August.

SAN FRANCISCO QUARANTINE.

A Pamphleteer Voices a Loud Complaint of Detention in 1888.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26—A pamphlet bearing the initials G. M. S. and dated Chicago, May 1, 1888, is having a large circulation in this city. Its author states that he was "among the passengers unjustly detained in quarantine at San Francisco in 1888." He has collected a number of facts relating to this quarantine and put them in shape under the title of "The So-Called Quarantine at San Francisco."

The author is very severe in his denunciation of the board of health of this city and particularly Dr. McAllister, health officer. He then reviews the history of the quarantine laws of California and recites a number of incidents where some passengers were kept in quarantine for the entire time, as provided by law, while others on the same vessel were permitted to quietly land. He claims the present manner of enforcing the quarantine laws at this port is unjust to the steamship passengers and is causing people to go by the northern route to escape the persecution of Dr. McAllister and the board of health of San Francisco.

In conclusion he says: "If the people of San Francisco find business leaving their port and going elsewhere, let them look to their local government, their board of health, and especially to their mayor."

An Attorney's Opinion.

The following card from Mr. C. D. Cone, a prominent attorney of Parker, South Dakota, will be of general interest:

I take pleasure in saying to the public, as I have to my friends and acquaintances for the last five years, that I consider Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy the best medicine for the purpose it is intended that I ever tried. Since I have used it I would not be without it. I was always subject to cholera morbus and never found anything else that gave the relief that your remedy does. I never leave home without taking it with me, and on many occasions have ran with it to the relief of some sufferer and have never known it to fail. My children always call for that good medicine when they have pain in the stomach or bowels.

S. S. S.

SWIFT'S SPECIFIC has cured me of a malignant breaking out on my leg, which caused intolerable pain. It was called Eczema by the doctors—four of whom treated me with no relief. I candidly confess that I owe my present good health to S. S. S., which in my estimation is invaluable as a blood remedy.

MISS JULIA DEWITT,
2227 N. Tenth St., St. Louis, Mo.

Our baby when two months old was attacked with Scrofula, which for a long time destroyed her eyesight entirely, and caused us to despair of her life. The doctors failed to relieve her, and we gave SWIFT'S SPECIFIC, which soon cured her entirely, and she is now hale and hearty.

NEWS FROM OVER THE WAY.

Meetings Held Last Evening of the Old and New Council.

Interesting Meeting of the Y. M. C. A.—Address, Music, Etc.—Orange Blossoms—Entertainment—Policeman Needed.

A special meeting of the common council was called last night with Mayor N. B. Craine in the chair. The chair announced that it was in order for the old board to dissolve, and allow the new mayor and councilmen to take their seats.

On motion a vote of thanks was extended to the retiring members for faithful discharge of their duties. The old board then adjourned sine die.

Mayor Stewart then took his seat and called the new council to order.

The new board is composed of Murphy, Terry, Martin, Shannon, Stott, Lewis, Hardie and McMahon.

Councilman Stott was then elected president of the council for the ensuing year.

Mayor Stewart announced that he would appoint the usual committees and read his first message at the regular meeting next Monday.

On motion, the rules of order used last year were adopted.

Council then adjourned.

Y. M. C. A. MEMBERS' MEETING.

Last evening the members' meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association was held in their rooms, and a very pleasant, entertaining and hospitable evening was spent.

General Secretary Beers, of the Portland association, who has just returned from the international convention at Philadelphia, was present, and in a short address convinced all that the "Y. M. C. A. generally is rapidly growing in numbers, in strength for Christian work, and into the favor of the entire country, and that the East Portland Y. M. C. A. is only one in a great multitude that are banded together in the work of building up young men socially, mentally, physically and morally.

He encouraged the work here; speaking of the view business men in the East are taking of it, who have found by experience that an employe who spends his leisure hours at the association rooms not only is benefited socially by meeting young men of whose acquaintance he need not be ashamed; physically, by the use of the gymnasium; mentally, by any of the classes he cares to attend during the winter, or by the use of the library and reading-rooms at all times; morally, by attending some of the meetings or coming in contact with the active members; but he comes to his work usually with a clear mind and is able cheerfully to do his duty, thus benefiting his employer also. On the other hand, those who spend their time at different places of resort for pleasure come to their work unfited for it by dissipation. A great many young men are unable to perform their duties satisfactorily, and are dismissed because they choose the wrong amusement during their leisure hours. This difference of recreation and its effects have been noticed by business men. They know young men must have recreation, and they have come to the conclusion that the Young Men's Christian Association is the right place to obtain that recreation.

Make the rooms attractive to young men. Build an attractive and commodious building; put in it all the attractions that will prove profitable and entertaining. Make it an institution not only upheld and carried on by the churches, but by the business men, for they, too, reap an advantage from its work. A great many men who look upon the association in this light are subscribing liberally to its support."

Mr. Beers also spoke of an address made in Philadelphia by Postmaster General John Wanamaker in which he referred to the time he had spent in association work as a general secretary as the best school of experience he ever had.

The members of the East Portland association feel they have gained some of the zeal Mr. Beers brought with him from the Philadelphia convention.

After a solo by P. M. Cochrane, Miss Lizzie Shogren read an essay on the work of the ladies' auxiliary in which she disabused the minds of any who think that the auxiliary is merely an ornamental appendage to the Y. M. C. A., and that while they are ornamental and indispensable at the socials and entertainments, they have a special work in furnishing and making the rooms of the association as attractive as possible, in which work the East Portland association may congratulate itself, as the elegantly furnished rooms of the association is largely the work of the auxiliary.

Then came an instrumental solo by Mrs. Hecker, and a vocal solo by Mr. Beers, which were followed by a discussion on the "duties of members."

These members' meetings are found to be pleasant and profitable, and will be held every two months on the last Wednesday of the month.

The association holds three meetings each week. One on Friday night at 8 o'clock, which is the men's Bible-reading meeting; Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, Bible study; Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, men's gospel meeting. All these meetings are made as interesting and pleasant as possible. The rooms are nice and cool, the music good and the best of speakers address the gospel meetings Sunday afternoon. The rooms are open every day from 9 A. M. to 9:30 P. M.

BENEFIT ENTERTAINMENT.

The following is the programme for Miss Lucia B. Griffin's entertainment to be given this (Friday) evening, June 28, at the Odd Fellows hall, East Portland, for the Baby Home: Song of the Bobolink, The Baby's Soliloquy, Innocent Bess (in costume), Josiah Allen's Wife (in costume), Over the Hill to the Poor House (in costume), The Fashionable Girl (in costume), Money Musk (in costume), The Naughty Little Girl (in costume). Music between each number.

The Presbyterian choir will furnish music between the numbers, and the "little tots" will sing a duet with violin accompaniment. They are little daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Sherrer of Brooklyn.

WEDDING BELLS.

A pleasant wedding took place at the residence of Mr. Israel Morehead, on Twelfth and Jefferson streets, this city, Wednesday afternoon, June 26, at 4 o'clock. The contracting parties were Mr. Wm. Pildren and Miss Phebe J. Morehead. A goodly company of friends from Portland, Oregon City and East Portland were present to wish the happy couple a fair start in life. After the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. D. O. Ghormley of the Presbyterian church, all sat down to an elegant wedding supper, after which the guests spent the evening with music and song to the gratification of all present.

AT THE SEASIDE.

A note from the Seaside says: "Gus Struble is making additions to the two buildings he recently purchased here. Captain West and family are here. Dr. Dav Raffety's house is about completed. Sheriff Kelly's house is being refitted."

ANOTHER POLICEMAN WANTED.

A regular policeman is wanted north of Sullivan's gulch, and a petition is being signed asking the council to make the appointment.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. C. N. Rankin leaves for the seaside to-night to be away until September.

Miss E. L. Parris, niece of Mr. S. McCully, of Stephens's addition, left for Staunton, Virginia, last evening for a two months' visit to her old home.

CYLINDER HEAD BLOWN OUT.

The Steamer R. R. Thompson Temporarily Disabled—The Reed Takes Her Place.

The steamer R. R. Thompson, while on her way up to this city from Astoria yesterday morning, met with an accident. She was steaming along between Harrington and Tongue points under her usual pressure of steam, when suddenly one of the cylinder heads blew out, flying unpleasantly close to the chief engineer, George Fuller. The piston and connecting rod were ruined completely.

The Lurline, which was passing at the time, took the Thompson in tow, but meeting the Willamette Chief soon after, turned the disabled boat over to her, and taking the mail and passengers for this city and way landings, proceeded on her way up the river.

Engineer Fuller soon found that he would not need the Chief's assistance, and the latter cast off and came on up to this city, leaving the Thompson to work her way up the river with one cylinder. The time made was rather slow, but the Thompson reached this city about 7 o'clock last evening. The only stop was made at Brookfield, but that was of short duration.

The S. G. Reed took the Thompson's place on the Astoria route last evening, and the Willamette Chief will take the Reed's place on the Cascades route to-day.

"IN MEMORY OF A BRAVE DEED."

Joseph Buchtel Handsomely "Caned" for Saving a Child's Life Fifteen Years Ago.

About fourteen years ago, shortly after the cars commenced running on Fourth street, Mr. Joseph Buchtel was riding on one of them and W. Carey Johnson with his wife and 4-year-old son were at the same time crossing the street. The little boy ran under the horse car, and the driver having his head turned, did not see him in time. Mr. Buchtel, with great presence of mind, seized the lines with one hand, stopping him and wheeling him from the boy who had been knocked down, and with his other hand grasped the little fellow just as the car was passing over him.

The whole thing was over in an instant, and soon passed from Mr. Buchtel's memory. It did not, however, pass from the memory of Mr. Johnson, nor his wife nor the boy. Yesterday the latter reached his 18th birthday, and Mr. Buchtel received an invitation to call at Mr. Johnson's office, where he found the family, and where the young man, in a very neat speech, presented him with a handsome gold-headed cane, inscribed: "From W. Carey Johnson, June 27, 1889. In memory of a brave deed, 1875. I owe you my boy's life."

Mr. Buchtel, as may well be supposed, was taken completely by surprise. He modestly disclaimed any particular merit for his action on the occasion, which he did involuntarily and merely as an inherent sense of duty. Mr. Johnson and his family have often talked of the affair, and have long been intending to show that they had not forgotten the service Mr. Buchtel so promptly rendered, but they have been putting it off till the boy was old enough to make the presentation himself. Mr. Buchtel is not so young and spry as he was fifteen years ago, and in course of time may find the cane useful as well as ornamental.

THE BOY MURDERER DEAD.

Young John J. P. McAllister, Under Sentence for Life, Dies at the Penitentiary.

Wednesday morning, John J. P. McAllister, a lad serving out a life sentence for the murder of his father, died at the penitentiary. Deceased was aged 16 years. He was committed to the penitentiary on the 3d of last October.

He was put to work in the tailor shop, and seemed to grow more robust at first but later was taken sick. He grew gradually worse, and was finally kindly taken under the care of Mrs. McKinnon, wife of the warden of that institution, who humanely nursed the youthful criminal and cared for him like a mother.

The name of the boy's father was Richard H. McAllister, and he resided near Woodville, Jackson county, with his promising son. McAllister was divorced from his wife, who lives at Cottage Grove, Lane county. The boy didn't like his father and wanted to go and live with his mother. This wish his father denied, and so the boy shot him one morning about 1 o'clock while he was in bed asleep. He used a shotgun. He stayed with the corpse that night and the next morning packed his valise, took the dead father's watch and gun and started to Cottage Grove. He himself told of the death of his father, and an investigation followed, the result of which is already shown.

Dr. W. D. Jeffries, physician at the penitentiary, states the boy did not die of consumption, as was at first reported, that he had no such disease; that an examination after his death showed that he had suppurative inflammation of the brain; and the doctor said the cause was inherited. While in prison the youthful criminal was easily irritated, and his first impulse when angry was to kill the object of his wrath.

HOME INSURANCE COMPANIES

Now Receiving the Hearty Support of the People of the Northwest.

One of the strongest claims that any line of business has on the patronage of a people is that it is a strictly home industry. In no other line does this perhaps apply with the force that it does in that of fire insurance. Where the home insurance company, for instance, can guarantee perfect protection to the insured, the policy at all times should be to encourage in every way the fostering and building up of these great financial organizations by a liberal local patronage, organizations to which more than one large moneyed center of the world can trace directly a great degree of its prosperity. One of the strongest insurance companies organized and doing business in the Pacific Northwest is the Northwest Fire & Marine Insurance Company, of Portland, Oregon. This company is formed with a paid up capital of $200,000 in cash, and with a stock resource of $300,000 more, secured by notes of stockholders, and payable on call, and enjoys to-day the confidence of the conservative business men of Oregon and Washington. It includes in its list of stockholders the names of such able and successful business men as H. L. Pittock, J. Loewenberg, John McCraken, R. P. Earhart, J. K. Gill, F. K. Arnold, C. E. Sitton, F. Eggert, and D. D. Oliphant. The officers of the company are J. Loewenberg, president; John McCraken, vice president; R. P. Earhart, secretary and general manager; E. Everett, assistant secretary, a sufficient guarantee that the direct control of the company's affairs is in the hands of men whose zeal in the directing of their own business has only been equaled by the care that they have bestowed in conducting interests in which they have become in any way directly interested. One of the strongest claims that this company is able to present at the present time for the patronage of the entire people of Oregon and Washington is the promptness with which it adjusted its losses at the great Seattle fire. The losses of this single company in this severe conflagration were in the neighborhood of $25,000. The morning following the fire an adjuster for the Northwest was on his way to Seattle, and as soon as possible after his arrival, arrangements were made by this representative with one of the local banks of the stricken city to pay their checks in cash just as fast as the adjustments could be made. The company at the present time has the hearty recommendation of the entire community of Seattle, and at the same time the confidence of every one in the Pacific Northwest, who are at all conversant with its present standing.

THE POLICE COMMISSION'S AMBITION

President Simon Says It Is the Aim to Elevate the Tone of the Force.

"It has always been the desire and the aim of the police commission to suppress gambling and the houses of prostitution as much as possible," said President Simon, of that body, to an OREGONIAN reporter yesterday. "Of course it is impossible to clean out the gamblers and fallen women, but we have always done our best to restrict them. Chief Parrish has always had orders to this effect. It is the ambition of the police commission to elevate the tone of the force, and bring it up to the standard required in a city of Portland's size and importance, and to that end we have informally discussed ways and means. We propose to lop off incompetent officers and fill their places with competent men."

YESTERDAY'S COURT NEWS.

The Murder Case of John Drouillard Set for Trial To-day.

James Murphy's Luck—Withholding Pension Money—New Divorce Law—Before Judge Tanner—The Docket.

The case of John Drouillard, charged with the murder of Pedro Riberos on board the steamer Corona, in March last, comes up for trial in the United States circuit court to-day. Drouillard was first assistant engineer of the Corona, and Riberos was a fireman. There was some trouble between them and they clinched, and Drouillard, who was the smaller man of the two, stabbed Riberos with a clasp knife a number of times, from the effects of which he died in a few minutes. The killing was done shortly after the steamer left San Francisco.

BEFORE JUDGE TANNER.

Mary Ellen Buckley, the wayward daughter of a well-meaning woman of East Portland, and sister of "Tough" Buckley, now "doing" five years in the penitentiary for perjury, and Emma Frischkorn, daughter of a Washington street tailor, were up before Judge Tanner yesterday, charged with roaming the streets yesterday morning at 2 o'clock. The two girls were recently convicted of vagrancy, but released on the promises of their parents that they would care for them in the future. The court stated that he gave up all hope of reformation in their cases, and sentenced each to twenty days' imprisonment.

Edward Parker, an iron-moulder, was fined $20 for assault and battery on Mrs. M. W. Trevett, proprietress of the Arlington lodging house, and her colored night porter, "Frenchy" Duplessis. The plaintiffs were ejecting a person under the influence of liquor, who had no business in the house, when Parker interfered.

"Iron-leg" Sullivan, a chronic drunk, was fined $10, and Lee How and Lee Quong $10 each for disorderly conduct.

ALL ABOUT A PENSION.

Mr. Patton, the Washington county man who caused the arrest of J. W. Baker, his neighbor and employe, on a charge of forcibly withholding a letter containing pension money, shortly after Baker was released on bail, caused his arrest a second time on a charge of withholding a pension payment, claiming to have a lien on the same. The law provides that a man cannot hypothecate his pension, nor can it be attached as other money can. Baker was released on his own recognizance by the United States commissioner, owing to the fact that he had already put up bonds to appear on the first charge. It seems to be about as dangerous to interfere with a United States pensioner as with the United States mails.

THE NEW DIVORCE LAW IS RETROACTIVE.

In the divorce suit of Mrs. Lois R. Cochrane vs. William Cochrane, the defendant's motion to set aside the service was denied by Judge Stearns yesterday. When the suit was begun last fall Cochrane was living in California, and basing his action upon the old law requiring a suit to be instituted in the county where the defendant resided, he held that the service was void and moved to quash it. Since then the legislature has amended the law so that suits for divorce may be begun and tried in the county where either the plaintiff or defendant resides. Judge Stearns decided that the new law was retroactive and denied the motion and gave Cochrane ten days to plead.

JAMES GOES UP.

James Murphy, a tough looking citizen brought down from Portland by Deputy United States Marshal Furnish on a charge of selling liquor to the Indians, pleaded guilty to the charge in the United States district court yesterday, and was fined $10. Owing to his not having received any rents or profits from his estates in Spain for some time, he was unable to pay the fine. He will honor the county jail with his presence for thirty days or so, and Uncle Sam will settle the bill, and when he is again at liberty to revisit the pale glimpses of the morn, and all that sort of thing, James will be with us, and Pendleton will have one useless citizen the less. 'Tis ever thus.

UNCLE MYERS'S WILL.

The will of the late Harris was filed for probate yesterday. The deceased bequeathed $1 to each of his seven children, and the remainder of his estate to his wife. The estate is valued at $10,000. Mrs. Harris was nominated as executrix and B. H. Lichten, of San Francisco, as executor.

For quick raising, the Royal Baking Powder is superior to all other leavening agents. It is absolutely pure and wholesome and of the highest leavening power. It is always uniform in strength and quality and never fails to make light, sweet, most palatable and nutritive food. Bread, biscuits, muffins, cake, etc., raised with Royal Baking Powder may be eaten hot without distressing results to the most delicate digestive organs. It will keep in any climate without deterioration.

Prof. H. A. Mott, U. S. Government Chemist, after examining officially the principal baking powders of the country, reported:

"The Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure, for I have so found it in many tests made both for that company and the United States Government.

"Because of the facilities that company have for obtaining perfectly pure cream of tartar, and for other reasons dependent upon the proper proportions of the same, and the method of its preparation, the Royal Baking Powder is undoubtedly the purest and most reliable baking powder offered to the public.
